

Task 01: Fill in the table with the right answers. 04 pts

Ellipsis	Omitting words that are understood from context
Redundancy	The unnecessary repetition of meaning or information in language.
Consistency	The quality of maintaining uniformity and coherence throughout a text.
Sentence Fragments	Incomplete sentences missing a subject or verb.

Task 02: Reorder the follwong senetences to make a coherent paragraph 02pts

1. Making errors is part of the human nature, forgiveness, however is divine. As such, it is quite natural,
2. More importantly is the fact that trainees cannot make a real progress by repeating their errors.
3. The most important thing trainees must know is that they can make a useful lesson and benefit a great deal from errors .
4. Translation trainers, on their part, have to be forgivers and to generously tolerate some of the errors.
5. and much expected that translation trainees make errors when taking their first steps in the field.

The Answer: .....01-05 03-02-04.....

Task 03: Read the following paragraph carefully, then rewrite it using correct punctuation and capitalization ( 0.25 for each) 3.5 pts

motivation and perseverance are essential qualities for a good translator a motivated translator always seeks to improve his /her linguistic and cultural knowledge however translation can sometimes be difficult and time consuming therefore perseverance helps translators overcome challenges and continue working with patience and accuracy in addition these qualities allow translators to produce clear faithful and high quality translations

The Answer:

Motivation and perseverance are essential qualities for a good translator. A motivated translator always seeks to improve his/her linguistic and cultural knowledge. However, translation can sometimes be difficult and time-consuming. Therefore, perseverance helps translators overcome challenges and continue working with patience and accuracy. In addition, these qualities allow translators to produce clear, faithful, and high-quality translations.

Task 03: How does maintaining cohesion and coherence contribute to the quality of translation? 03 pts

It is Important in Translation because it:

- Ensures clarity and readability of translated texts.
- Maintains logical structure across languages.
- Enhances accuracy and fluency in writing.
- Reduces ambiguity and misinterpretation in translation.
- Helps produce well-structured academic and professional texts

Task 04: Write a well-developed introduction about the following topic. Language use (grammar, vocabulary, coherence, and accuracy) will be evaluated:. 07.5 pts

The importance of time management in students' academic life

Why do some students achieve their academic goals while others struggle to complete their tasks on time? In academic life, students are often required to balance classes, assignments, exams, and personal responsibilities. Effective time management helps students organize their schedules, reduce stress, and improve their productivity and performance. Therefore, time management is essential for helping students succeed academically and maintain a balanced and disciplined lifestyle.

6. Hook: 1 pt

“Why do some students achieve their academic goals while others struggle to complete their tasks on time?”

7. Background Information: 2pts

“In academic life, students are often required to balance classes, assignments, exams, and personal responsibilities. Effective time management helps students organize their schedules, reduce stress, and improve their productivity and performance.”

8. Thesis Statement: 2 pts

“Therefore, time management is essential for helping students succeed academically and maintain a balanced and disciplined lifestyle.”

9. Language (grammar, vocabulary, coherence, and accuracy): 2.5 pts